As a Certified Public Accountant with over 11 years of experience in public accounting, Mark provides planning and projection guidance to ensure clients are continuously aware of tax opportunities. He drives a synchronized partnership between tax services and Personal Office™ advisors to seamlessly integrate tax expertise with client goals.

Mark's core specializations include working with high-net-worth individuals, real estate professionals and closely held businesses. Mark has worked with corporate executives for many of Minnesota's Fortune 500 companies and has successfully handled the tax aspects of business transactions from the organization of the entity to final disposition. With a focus on planning and projections, he strives to avoid surprises and utilize tax opportunities for his clients.

Mark graduated from Gustavus Adolphus College, earning a bachelor's degree in accounting. Additionally, Mark has a master's degree in business taxation from the Carlson School of Management and his Certified Public Accountant license. He is an active speaker to chamber members and real estate groups on tax law developments and changes.

Mark and his wife, Laurie, live in Plymouth, Minnesota, with their daughter, Samantha, and their dog, Chester. In his free time, Mark enjoys golfing as many new courses as he can, hunting across the Midwest and traveling with his family.
